

D.C. HUNGER SOLUTIONS – Anti-Hunger Program Associate

Focus Area: Child Nutrition Programs - (Posted July 11, 2018)

Positions Available

D.C. Hunger Solutions seeks a highly motivated and skilled individual to join its staff as an Anti-Hunger Program Associate. Through advocacy, research, coalition-building, outreach, technical assistance, public education and program monitoring, the Anti-Hunger Program Associate will be responsible for working to increase participation and improve benefits in the child nutrition programs (WIC; school meals; summer, afterschool and child care meals) in the District of Columbia. As part of the D.C. Hunger Solutions team, the Associate also will work to advance the overall goals of D.C. Hunger Solutions, to support the efforts of partner coalitions, and to address broader food security issues in Washington, D.C. The ideal candidate must be committed to addressing hunger and poverty in Washington, D.C. This full-time position reports to the Director of D.C. Hunger Solutions.

Organizational Background

The Food Research and Action Center (FRAC) is the leading national nonprofit organization working to improve and implement effective public policies and public-private partnerships to eradicate hunger and undernutrition in the United States.

Founded in 2002, D.C. Hunger Solutions is a separately staffed and budgeted initiative of FRAC, seeking to end hunger in the nation's capital. By leveraging substantial available federal dollars and improving D.C.'s operations of federal and local nutrition programs, D.C. Hunger Solutions work has helped to feed tens of thousands of District residents struggling with hunger and has increased access to healthy, affordable food. D.C. Hunger Solutions also leads or plays a key supporting role in the efforts of the various anti-hunger and anti-poverty coalitions throughout the city (e.g., the D.C. Fair Budget Coalition, D.C. Farmers' Market Collaborative, the Language Access Coalition, the Senior Advisory Coalition, and the Mayor's Commission on Healthy Youth and Schools). For more information on D.C. Hunger Solutions, visit: www.dchunger.org.

Anti-Hunger Program Associate's Responsibilities

- Promote public nutrition program participation growth as a core strategy to address hunger and poverty, and improve health, early childhood development and learning among children.
- Analyze policies and practices that foster or inhibit participation in child nutrition programs, with a focus on programs available for schools and child care facilities.
- Assist in the development and implementation of strategies to increase participation and improve nutrition in federal child nutrition programs through site visits, outreach, research, training, technical assistance, public education, policy advocacy, media and social media outreach, and the development of materials for residents, providers, and policymakers.
- Collect and report data on participation rates and analyze participation trends in public nutrition programs in the District.
- Provide assistance to key stakeholders and attend meetings/events to assure full implementation of the D.C. Healthy Schools Act of 2010 and the D.C. Healthy Tots Act of 2014.
- Help promote and implement free school breakfast and breakfast served through alternative service models (such as "breakfast in the classroom", "grab and go" breakfast, or "second chance breakfast") in D.C. public and public charter schools.
- Work with community groups, collaboratives, early childhood providers, schools, and out-of-school-time and faith-based organizations to improve access to nutrition programs, with a focus on afterschool meals and summer meals. This will include the development of a plan to help interested stakeholders sponsor more meal sites.

- Work, as part of the D.C. Hunger Solutions' team, to engage and educate the public and policymakers about the extent of hunger and its impact on District of Columbia residents and to forge workable solutions at the local level.

Skills and Qualifications

- Commitment to working for social justice; background in anti-poverty and anti-hunger work preferred.
- Bachelor's degree and a minimum of one year of relevant experience.
- Strong oral, written and organizational skills.
- Ability to reach out effectively to low-income families, school officials, and community-based organizations eligible for program benefits.
- Good conceptual, strategic thinking and creative skills.
- Detail-oriented planning and implementation skills.
- Willingness to work varied hours.
- Ability to manage several tasks simultaneously.
- Excellent interpersonal skills.
- Strong teamwork capabilities.
- Experience with anti-hunger programs and/or with D.C. early childhood providers, public schools and/or public charter schools a plus.
- Ability to speak Spanish a plus.

Salary and Benefits

Salary commensurate with experience. Generous leave, health and other benefits.
