

Digital Media Associate

Position Available

The Food Research & Action Center (FRAC), a nonprofit public policy, research, and advocacy organization that works to end hunger in the U.S., is seeking a Digital Media Associate. The successful candidate should have experience: in developing and executing aggressive social media campaigns and developing engaging and shareable content for a variety of audiences and platforms. The Digital Media Associate reports to the Director of Communications.

Organizational Background

The Food Research & Action Center is the leading national nonprofit organization working to eradicate hunger and undernutrition in the United States. FRAC works in partnership with hundreds of national, state and local nonprofit organizations, public agencies, corporations and labor organizations to address hunger and food insecurity, and poverty as their root cause. FRAC engages in research, policy analysis and advocacy, dissemination and implementation of best practices, coalition-building and an array of communications strategies. As such, FRAC's works includes widely relied-upon reports and analyses, social media content on multiple platforms, and media tools such as news releases, op-eds and letters to the editor.

Duties and Responsibilities

The Communications Department is responsible for promoting FRAC's mission, its brand and its programs through the media, publications, events, and digital communications. This position will be responsible for initiating and implementing social media strategies and content development and execution across a range of platforms. The Digital Media Associate will:

- Create high-impact, rich and shareable digital content to inform, engage and mobilize target audiences around priority research and advocacy efforts, key moments and timely initiatives, such as report releases, events, and media and advocacy campaigns. This includes, but is not limited to, infographics, video, and virtual and/or augmented reality.
- Develop strategies for promoting and sharing digital content via social media channels (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Instagram, YouTube) to engage and mobilize target audiences.
- Manage the day-to-day execution of social media to ensure FRAC's brand, mission and initiatives are put forth in a timely, relevant, and positive way.
- Manage and produce digital events using Facebook Live, Webex, and Twitterchats.
- Build and strengthen relationships with influencers, including bloggers and other partners active on social media.
- Report monthly on social media metrics.
- Significantly increase the number of social media followers and digital media engagement.
- Coordinate with various departments to ensure social media activities help support various FRAC initiatives.
- Proactively seek to understand social media platforms and emerging digital trends, particularly industry best practices and ways that other organizations and companies are harnessing them.

Experience and Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree required.
- 1-2 years of experience in executing social media campaigns and strategies across multiple platforms, preferably for a nonprofit organization, media organization, or public relations firm.
- Experience creating compelling content using tools such as Canva and Animoto to grow a social audience.
- Editorial mindset that seeks to understand what social media audiences consume and how to create it.
- An eye for design.
- Ability to work collaboratively with staff across the organization.
- Ability to be flexible and respond to changes as part of the review and feedback process.
- Ability to thrive in a fast-paced environment and complete projects accurately and quickly.
- Track record of increasing social media followers.

Salary/Benefits

Salary commensurate with experience. Generous leave, health, retirement and other benefits.
