Making the Most of WIC’s Fruit and Vegetable Benefits Increase
Outreach Toolkit for WIC Partners

What is the WIC Fruit and Vegetable Benefit Increase?
The Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) has increased the monthly value of the fruit and vegetable benefit within the children’s food package and the food packages for pregnant and postpartum individuals. The benefit is increased to $24 per month for children, $43 per month for pregnant and postpartum individuals, and $47 per month for fully and partially breastfeeding individuals. This more than doubles the usual benefit of $9 for fruits and vegetables per month for children and more than triples the usual $11 per month for pregnant and postpartum individuals. States are distributing the increased benefits now through September 2022.

This increased monthly WIC benefit can help alleviate food insecurity for families with young children and support good health during the COVID-19 pandemic.

How Can You Help Make the Most of the Fruit and Vegetable Benefit Increase?
To help maximize the WIC fruit and vegetable benefit increase, you can help spread the word about the benefit increase to your networks and partners through the messaging and graphics provided in this toolkit.

Increasing awareness of the fruit and vegetable benefit increase will:
1) help ensure current WIC participants fully utilize the increased amount of money for fruits and vegetables in their monthly food package;
2) encourage individuals eligible but not participating in WIC to enroll due to the increased value of the food package; and
3) help WIC vendors, including grocery stores and markets, prepare additional inventory and staff to account for the increased produce purchasing power of WIC participants.

This toolkit offers customizable social media posts, graphics, and print materials for you to share.
